THE DRIFTWOOD TEAM

SCOTT DAVID KUHN moved to the East side of Cleveland in 1986 where he graduated from Solon High School. Following his childhood dreams, Scott attended the University of Akron's culinary program while working in local restaurants and finished his degree in management from Malone College.

The Driftwood Restaurant Group was born with the purchase of the Allegheny Grille in the small town of Foxburg, Pennsylvania in 2005. In 2007, Scott reestablished the Welshfield Inn in Burton, Ohio and opened 87 West, located in Crocker Park in Westlake, Ohio. In 2010, Scott opened Washington Place Bistro and Inn, in Cleveland's Little Italy neighborhood in the space where the once-famous Baricelli Inn existed. In 2012, Scott and partner, Chris Hodgson, launched Driftwood Catering. In 2013, Scott Iaunched Cibréo Italian Kitchen, Green Rooster Farms, Bin 216, and Republic Food + Drink, all in Playhouse Square. Scott and Washington Place Bistro have been featured on Food Network's Unique Eats, which spotlights America's most exciting and revolutionary restaurants.

Scott and driftwood consulting have advised numerous food service operations. Consulting clients include Hyland Software; Calfee, Halter, and Griswold; Kent State University; Chagrin Valley Country Club; and Cleveland Pickle amongst others.

Scott is passionately involved in volunteering and helping others. Scott is a board member of Veggie U, a program dedicated to educating fourth graders on a holistic food approach, from understanding how food is grown to developing healthy eating habits. Scott is also on multiple advisory boards for University Hospital, as well as helping many other non profit organizations through the Kuhn Family Foundation. Scott is on Kent State University's Hospitality Programs advisory board.

Scott was named one of Cleveland Magazine's Most Interesting People, January 2014, followed by Ernst and Young's Entrepreneur of the Year in 2015.

Scott and his wife Amy, enjoy spending time together outdoors and watching their two little girls grow up one day at a time.

CHRIS HODGSON is a graduate of Le Cordon Bleu who, inspired by the food trucks he saw while living in New York City, brought the very first food truck to the city of Cleveland in 2010. His truck, Dim and Den Sum, gained a cult following and helped pave the way for Cleveland's food truck culture. Chris' second truck, Hodge Podge Truck, achieved nationwide recognition when he finished second on Food Network's The Great Food Truck Race and was featured on Food Network's Unique Eats as well as Eat Street.

2013, Chris and partner Scott Kuhn launched Green Rooster Farms, and Green Rooster Creamery. In 2014, Bin 216, all in PlayhouseSquare.

Chris is also a consulting chef for the Driftwood Restaurant Group and president of Driftwood Catering. He was runner up in the Silver Spoon Awards, coming in second to celebrity chef Michael Symon. In 2012, Chris was named one of Cleveland Magazine's Most Interesting People. In 2013, Chris was a finalist on Food Network's Food Network Star and in 2014, named FOOD AND WINE's People's Best New Chef for the Great Lakes Region.

TESTIMONIALS

The quality and service Driftwood provides is absolutely spectacular! From the beginning, Driftwood has continually impressed us with their unique style, delicious food and overall helpful event management. We love working with the entire team. We couldn't ask for a better partner that understands and delivers on our company culture and vision!

Amanda Gerding, Hyland Software

Driftwood Catering provided an innovative and fun menu for our Annual Fundraiser, Band Aid Bash. Their execution, service, and quality was a perfect match for our 500+ person event and helped make it one of the most popular fundraisers in Cleveland.

Josh Kravitz, Medwish International

I was fortunate to have won a catered meal for 20 people at a nonprofit live auction . The chefs were Scott Kuhn and Chris Hodgson who own a number of very good restaurants in the Cleveland area as well as a well known food truck in the city. They came highly recommended and I am glad that I won the auction because they did a spectacular job . The meal was a multiple course dinner prepared from scratch at my home . Every course was fresh, interesting and delicious. My guests were still talking about the meal a few days after the event. Equally impressive was the perfect pace of the service and the fact that they left my home in perfect condition which made my wife very happy. I would highly recommend Driftwood Catering!
